My Lord saved me in my late thirties, even though I had been raised in a family that attended church faithfully each Sunday the result was purely head knowledge and a false sense of being Christian. After The Holy Spirit opened my eyes and captured my heart did I awaken to the truths of God's Word. Such joy, peace and conviction as I walk day by day with The Lord! The Lord provided me a lovely bride, Barb, who also loves The Lord (Yay Lord!) We enjoy boating/fishing and motorcycle riding when the weather is excellent, no sense going crazy! A verse that motivates me is Psalm 90:12 "So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom." I am reminded of the brevity of life and not to put off our call from The Lord to go and teach His commands and make disciples that make disciples.
